Description of Requested Variances

To allow rear deck of proposed residence to encroach rear building setback by 6'

Please check the box below if the requested variance(s) includes an increase in the maximum impervious surface area or an encroachment into a City stream buffer.

Comprehensive Narrative

In rendering its decisions, the License and Variance Board shall consider the following factors:

- 1. Whether there are extraordinary and exceptional conditions applying to the property in question, or to the intended use of the property, that do not apply generally to other properties in the same district.
- 2. Whether any alleged hardship which is self-created by any person having an interest in the property or is not the result of mere disregard for or ignorance of the provisions from which relief is sought.
- 3. Whether strict application of the relevant provisions of the zoning code would deprive the applicant of reasonable use of the property for which the variance is sought.
- 4. Whether the variance proposed is the minimum variance which makes possible the reasonable use of the property.

A comprehensive narrative detailing the extraordinary and exceptional conditions which will necessitate a nonconforming use.

The zoning calls for a 22' driveway and 2 car garage facing the street. Since the lot is very narrow and limited in depth, in addition it falls off sharply at the rear, we are requesting a variance to build the rear deck in the rear setback. Without this variance, it is unlikely for the prospective homeowners to have any usable outdoor space. It should be noted that the existing detention pond close to this lot is positioned further back towards the rear property line as to what the proposed deck would be. It should also be noted that the living space is not big enough to enable us to sacrifice interior usable space to allow for a rear deck. The posts of the proposed deck would be within the private drainage easement, however they would not affect the drainage swell that is required as per the site plan.

PLATE INDICATORS
 A breakthrough in the use of plate indicators for the detection of platelet aggregation has been achieved by the development of a new type of platelet indicator. The new platelet indicator is a thin, flexible, and transparent film that can be used to detect platelet aggregation in a variety of applications. The platelet indicator is made of a special material that is sensitive to the presence of platelets. When platelets are present, the indicator changes color, providing a visual indication of platelet aggregation. The platelet indicator is easy to use and can be used in a variety of applications, including the detection of platelet aggregation in blood samples, the detection of platelet aggregation in urine samples, and the detection of platelet aggregation in saliva samples. The platelet indicator is also easy to store and transport, making it a convenient tool for the detection of platelet aggregation in a variety of settings.
